

Editorial
Meetings in Tasmania

12 February 2007

There's a certain quality to the light in Tasmania, which photographers rave about. Mountains loom closer, rivers run darker, blue sky has a wider reach and colours seem more vibrant and rich.

It's this stunning light which makes Tasmania a special place, full of rich experiences – from mysterious rainforests to fascinating colonial villages, idyllic beaches, mouth-watering fresh produce and magnificent cool-climate wines. Add in world-class meeting facilities, accommodation options and superb off-site venues, and Tasmania becomes an unforgettable conference destination.

Unforgettable, because it also offers a range of experiences for your delegates to savour and enjoy, in one compact and easily accessible destination.

As a meetings experience Tasmania will leave you spoilt for choice. Whether you require a city venue for a large convention of 1100 people or a secluded haven in the Tasmanian wilderness for a small conference group, Tasmania's venues are on a par with any in Australia and operated by professionals experienced in staging the most prestigious international events.

As a social experience Tasmania offers exciting, unique and enjoyable social programs. Dramatic mountains, beautiful wilderness, colonial heritage, sophisticated wineries, busy cities and coastal scenery are all easily accessed and interpreted by convention groups.

As a dining experience you will refresh your palate with the flavours of our clean seas, pure water and rich soil. Rejuvenate your senses as you savour the tastes of succulent fresh seafood, game, cheeses and berries mixed with delicate cool climate wines and fine beer.

As an adventure experience there's plenty to fit the bill from a gentle outdoor pleasure to a full adrenalin rush. From rafting to riding, paddling to peddling, flying to fishing or climbing to cruising Tasmania offers an activity for every incentive or meeting group.

As a holiday experience Tasmania is the perfect destination for your delegates to take advantage of the pre and post tours available and combine their conference with a holiday and explore Tasmania's natural beauty, heritage and wilderness attractions.

Tasmania is unforgettable...with its relaxed pace of life reflecting a unique island lifestyle, a genuine warmth of welcome from the locals and an exciting and safe environment for your delegates to explore.